Patrick Corporation came to Architectus Interiors with a brief to create a contemporary interior for their executive office space within the parameters of a heritage building.

Our design solution sought to maximise the structure and nature of the pier building, while providing Patrick Corporation with new facilities and a clear identity.

The unique harbour views are maximized by uncluttered open plan offices and glazed meeting rooms allowing the maritime nature of Patrick's business to be brought into focus and supporting the organisations democratic culture.

Patrick's occupation of Pier 8/9 Walsh Bay successfully blended the needs of a very progressive and modern firm within the fabric of a heritage building and delivered the message "Our work is as old as time, but the way we do it steps into the future".
